Sherr Institute Courses

The Spring semester is well underway in the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies. But there is still time to register for the following courses:

- A Bintel Brief, given by Rabbi David Lincoln and co-sponsored by the Sisterhood, which will be held on three Tuesday mornings, March 5, 19, and 26 from 10:30 to 11:45 a.m. It is a look at sixty years of Letters to the Editor of The Jewish Forward which depicts the trials and tribulations of an immigrant Jewish population struggling to come to grips with life on the Lower East Side.

- Jewish Short Stories, to be given by Ms. Mychal Springer on eight Thursday evenings beginning on February 21st through April 18th from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. Each week short stories about the Jewish world of the past and the present will be discussed through the vision of their authors.

- Yiddish: Two series on Monday or Thursday evenings at 6 p.m. from March 3rd through April 29th.

Don't delay any longer! Time is running out to sign up for these wonderful courses!

Sisterhood Shabbat Service To Feature Manhattan Borough President Ruth Messinger

Manhattan Borough President Ruth W. Messinger will be the guest speaker at the annual Sisterhood Shabbat Service on Friday evening, April 12th at 8:00 p.m.

Ruth Messinger took office January 1, 1990 with a promise to make city government more accessible and accountable and to involve more New Yorkers in the decisions affecting their lives.

An expert on the city's finances during her twelve years on the New York City Council, Borough President Messinger continues to leave her mark on New York City's budget. She won adoption of several key recommendations last year, including tax relief for apartment dwellers and business owners. She is now using her budget authority to suggest ways to close the city's current large budget gap.

Throughout her career, Ms. Messinger has worked to secure legislative protections against prejudice and for tolerance. To this end, she has mobilized support for passage of state antibias legislation and fought the discriminatory hiring practices of some city contractors.

Ruth Messinger is a third generation New Yorker and mother of three children, all of whom graduated from New York City's public schools.

In addition to her work in New York, she is the national Chair of the Advisory Council of the National League of Cities, immediate past President of Women in Municipal Government, and Advisory Committee member of the Jewish Fund for Justice.

An Oneg Shabbat on the Lower Level will follow the Shabbat Service.

Super Shabbat Eve—March 15 Men's Club Service & Congregational Shabbat Dinner

The Men's Club of the Park Avenue Synagogue will hold its annual Shabbat Service on Friday evening, March 15th. This year, however, the service will begin at 6:00 p.m. instead of the usual 8 p.m. time. The Men's Club's guest speaker will be Jerry Goodman, Executive Director of Sepharad '92 and a member of our congregation. He will speak about next year's 500th Anniversary of the Expulsion of the Jews from Spain (in 1492) and will deal with such aspects of the topic as: the controversy over commemorating or celebrating this anniversary; the development of new Jewish communities in other countries, especially in the Ottoman, Turkish Empire, as the result of the expulsion; the role of the Catholic Church in the expulsion; the issue of Sainthood for Queen Isabella; and the teaching of tolerance.

The Congregational Shabbat Dinner, hosted by the Shabbat Dinner Committee, will take place after the Men's Club Service.

So plan to attend this super Shabbat evening at the Park Avenue Synagogue. Come to the Men's Club Shabbat Service early, at 6:00 p.m., and to hear Jerry Goodman speak about Sepharad '92. Then join the Park Avenue congregational family for a traditional Shabbat dinner afterwards. Let's celebrate Shabbat and the Men's Club Service together!

Make your reservations early through the synagogue office. The cost of the dinner is $20 per person. (There is no charge for children under 8.)

From The Rabbi's Desk

I've noticed that one of the biggest problems in contemporary Judaism is how alienated so many of us are from Jewish prayer. Many Jews, probably the great majority of American Jews, are simply unable to pray in the context of their tradition. This sad alienation is the result of a number of factors. First of all, most Jews simply do not know enough Hebrew to make a Jewish service at all meaningful. Jewishly, we are becoming an illiterate people. Secondly, the theology of some of the prayers—the assumptions inherent in their composition—is strange or even unacceptable to many of us. For instance, there are prayers which praise God for bringing the dead back to life. Many Jews simply do not accept that notion (or other notions), and this lack of faith interferes with their praying. Finally, the idea of intensely communing with God—of dredging up our deepest emotions—may simply be too daunting, too potentially exhausting for most Jews.

For whatever reasons, there are large numbers of Jews uncomfortable with Jewish worship services. And this is, I believe, a terrible shame. Prayer can add so much to life. It is such a vital, rewarding experience. When we have lived through terrible loss, prayer can comfort; when we are overjoyed, prayer provides us with the context to give thanks. Even in every day life prayer rescues from the mundane and puts us in touch with the ineffable. It is an experience for everyone, in every phase of life.

How, then, do we overcome this alienation? We forget, too often, that prayer, like so much else in life which is important, is a discipline. It requires sustained and rigorous effort. We enter the world of prayer at first through study. This synagogue offers ample opportunities to learn Hebrew. In Vivian Finkel we have the best Hebrew teacher in the city. Once the language hurdle is overcome, many of our Sherr Institute classes deal with the theological issues raised in prayer. Finally, during both the High Holidays and the regular year, our synagogue offers less formal services, where the skills and concepts of prayer are dealt with directly.

Praying Jewishly is not as daunting as it may appear. Any member of this synagogue has the tools and the opportunity to learn how to pray as a Jew. Like any skill, it will take time and effort. But few skills offer such rich and lasting rewards.

Special recognition was given to Leah Altcheck, a long-term faculty member of the Early Childhood Center.

Dr. David Hartman To Lecture Tuesday, March 19

On Tuesday evening, March 19th at 8 p.m., Dr. David Hartman, who delivered the stimulating Selihot lecture before Rosh Hashanah in 1989, will deliver another lecture at the Park Avenue Synagogue.

Dr. Hartman is the founder of the Shalom Hartman Institute in Jerusalem, a center for higher Jewish education and a think tank devoted to the research of important issues facing the Jewish people today.

Despite his roots in Orthodox Judaism, he has opposed using legislative and political means in Israel's Knesset to impose Judaic values and religious practices on contemporary Israeli society. He is committed to religious pluralism and has been active in trying to overcome religious polarization in Israeli society. In his published works, he has promoted the need for a healthy, liberal democracy and the power of the educational process in Israel. His writings also reflect a commitment to religious pluralism within the Jewish people and in interfaith relations.

Known as a philosopher and social activist, Dr. Hartman will speak on the conflicting visions regarding the spiritual possibilities of modern Israel, as well as the quest for the renewal of Judaism and Jewish life.

Mark your calendar now! Plan to attend what promises to be a thought-provoking evening.

As part of her talk, Ms. Shapiro will show slides relating to the new biennial exhibition at the Whitney. One of the questions she will address is "What kind of art can be made in an age of scuds and faxes?"

Lynne Shapiro's background is impressive. In addition to her position as Head of School Programs at the Whitney, where she also is responsible for coordinating the Artreach program, she is a member of the faculty of the New School for Social Research. As such, she has developed and taught interdisciplinary historical survey courses using literature and art and she is the author of several catalogue essays for museums and galleries both in the U.S. and abroad. Audiences find her to be an exciting and informative lecturer.

So mark your calendar now. Plan to attend this special members only event.

On Monday evening, April 22nd at 7:30 p.m., the Women's Evening Group is planning to hold a panel discussion on the topic "Women and the World of Work." Several of the questions to be considered are: How does work define us and affect our relationships with others? An update: Are women's attitudes toward work in the home versus in the workplace changing? If so, how? What are today's women's expectations and needs in relation to the world of work?

An extensive question and answer period will follow the panel discussion. So come prepared with your questions. Additional information will follow in the April issue.

This meeting will be open to all members of the congregation, their relatives and friends. Plan to join us for this interesting discussion.

A Soviet Couple Have Conservative Wedding In Israel

Through the generosity of the Park Avenue Synagogue, Rabbi Green, the Conservative Rabbi in Jerusalem performed the wedding ceremony for a young Soviet couple newly arrived in Israel.

As he wrote to Rabbi Lincoln on November 26, 1990, "On behalf of the Hatan v'Kallah, Alex Kesselman and Tanya Figman, let me express our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation for the very kind and thoughtful gift which made possible their lovely wedding reception at Morshet Yisrael on November 22nd."

"It was a most memorable occasion for all who attended, and in particular for the beautiful young couple. If others will follow your splendid example, the Klita of Olim from Russia and elsewhere will be made immeasurably easier."

"May Hashem bless you and yours, and may you be privileged to practice many more Mitzvot and Maasim Tovim in health, happiness, and peace."

Sincerely,
Rabbi Dr. Yosef Green

Passover Dietary Laws

Prohibited Foods

Prohibited Foods include: leavened bread, cakes, biscuits, crackers, cereal, coffee with cereal derivatives in them, wheat, barley, oats, spelt, rye, and all liquids containing ingredients or flavors made from grain alcohol. In addition, most Ashkenazic authorities have added the following foods to the above list: rice, corn, millet, legumes (beans, peas, peanuts; but string beans are permitted). Some Ashkenazic authorities permit, while others forbid the use of legumes in a form other than its natural state, for example, corn sweeteners, corn oil, soy oil, peanut oil. Sephardic authorities permit the use of all of the above. Consult Rabbi Lincoln for guidance in the use of these products.

Permitted Foods

A. The following foods require no kosher lePesah label if purchased prior to Pesah: unopened packages or containers of natural coffee (without cereal additives), sugar, pure tea, salt, pepper, natural spices, fruit juices with no additives (frozen, canned, or bottled), frozen (uncooked) vegetables (for legumes, see above), milk, butter, cottage cheese, cream cheese, tuna in water (no oil added), frozen (uncooked) fruit (with no additives), baking soda.

B. The following foods require no kosher lePesah label if purchased either before or during Pesah: fresh fruits and vegetables (except for legumes above), eggs, fresh fish and fresh meat.

C. The following foods require a kosher lePesah label if purchased either before or during Pesah: All baked products (matzah, cakes, matzah flour, farfel, matzah meal, and any products containing matzah), wine, vinegar, liquor, oils, dried fruits, candy, chocolate flavored milk, ice cream, yogurt, and soda.

D. The following foods require a kosher lePesah label if purchased during Pesah: Processed foods (canned, frozen, or bottled): milk, butter, juices, vegetables, fruit, milk products, spices, coffee, tea, and fish, as well as all foods listed in category C.

Detergents: If permitted during the year, powdered and liquid detergents do not require a kosher lePesah label.

Medicine: Since hametz binders are used in many pills, the following guidelines should be followed: If the medicine is required for life sustaining therapy, it may be used during Pesah. If it is not for life sustaining therapy, some authorities permit, while others prohibit. Consult Rabbi Lincoln. In all cases, capsules are preferable.

Kashering of Utensils

The process of kashering utensils depends on how the utensils are used. According to halakhah, leaven can be purged from a utensil by the same process in which it was absorbed in the utensil. Therefore, utensils used in cooking are kashered by boiling, those used in broiling are kashered by fire and heat, and those used only for cold food are kashered by rinsing.

A. Earthenware (china, pottery, etc.) may not be kashered. But fine translucent chinaware which has not been used for over a year may be used if scoured and cleaned in hot water.

B. Metal (wholly made of metal) used in fire (spit, broiler) must first be thoroughly scrubbed and cleansed and then made as hot as possible. Those used for cooking and eating (silverware, pots) must be thoroughly scrubbed and cleaned and completely immersed in boiling water. Pots should have water boiled in them which will overflow the rim. The utensils should not be used for a period of at least 24 hours between the cleaning and the immersion in boiling water. Metal baking utensils cannot be kashered.

In Celebration Of Passover

C. Oven and Ranges: Every part that comes in contact with food must be thoroughly scrubbed and cleaned. Then, oven and range should be heated as hot as possible for a half hour. If there is a broil setting, use it. Self cleaning ovens should be scrubbed and cleaned and then put through the self-cleaning cycle. Continuous cleaning ovens must be kashered in the same manner as regular ovens. Microwave ovens, which do not cook the food by means of heat, should be cleaned and then a cup of water should be placed in it. Then the oven should be turned on until the water disappears. A microwave oven that has a browning element cannot be kashered.

D. Glassware: Authorities disagree as to the method for kashering drinking utensils. One opinion requires soaking in water for three days, changing the water every 24 hours, while the other opinion requires only a thorough scrubbing before Pesah or putting it through a dishwasher.

E. Dishwasher: After not using the machine for a period of 24 hours, a full cycle with detergent should be run.

F. Electrical Appliances: If the parts that come into contact with hametz are removable, they can be kashered in the appropriate way (if metal, follow the rules for metal utensils). If the parts are not removable, the appliance cannot be kashered. (All exposed parts should be thoroughly cleaned.)

G. Tables, closets, and counters: If used with hametz, they should be thoroughly cleaned and covered, and then they may be used.

H. Kitchen sink: A metal sink can be kashered by a thorough cleaning and by pouring boiling water over it. A porcelain sink should be cleaned and a sink rack used. If, however, dishes are to be soaked in a porcelain sink, a dish basin must be used.

I. Hametz and non-Passover utensils: Non-Passover dishes, pots and hametz whose ownership has been transferred, should be separated, locked up or covered, and marked so as to prevent accidental use.
